PARENTAGE OF THE NEW DEALERS

President Roosevelt by some mysterious application of contraption has brought into being a heterogeneous lot of Beelzebubs born out of political wedlock that he no longer recognizes his own offspring. Like the devil himself his own rise today to plague him.

First and foremost is the Kingfish of the "share the wealth" contingent that is making such headway even Democratic leaders see trouble in the distant future.

Next comes the Sunday afternoon crusader that exposes the shame connected with his political parentage and he renounces to his millions of followers the sin of his ancestry.

From the printed page of the nation's leading periodical we find "Crackdown" Johnson disowning his parentage and exposing his early teaching.

Another offspring that arises to plague his sire spreads the gospel of $200 a month pensions, much to the annoyance of the one who once pleaded the cause of the "Forgotten man."

By inheritance an Oklahoma senator realizing his political birth was by form of inflation now sees no harm in going daddy one better and would cover the land with manna in the form of greenbacks.

At the head of the Whitehouse table sits that noble Roman son, Bacchus, with his wine to make merry among the young of the household. By his very makeup little does he care for the origin of his parentage.

Out of a labor of thirty hours a week comes one "Shedevil" and her two sons, Green and Lewis. Troublesome old lady with two bad boys bent on wrecking everything they touch.

And over the Whitehouse portal is the nest of the Blue Eagle and the old bird is dead as "Dodo" but the Cuckoo says to the estranged family, "Coo-Coo."

REPUBLICANS CAN GET IN BREAD LINE

We are not so sure but that Gov. Davey may be not only right in removing all Republicans holding state positions but that in so doing he will be doing a house-cleaning job the party managers have for years refused to do. We do not wish to infer that the new Democratic appointments will be any more qualified than the Republicans have been or that the state will be any more economically managed under Democratic rule than Republican.

We believe a good house cleaning will do the Republican party more good than anything else. Many have hid behind so-called civil service rules that had no right to protection, for their service was not for the state, but to pull chestnuts for certain Republican bosses. A number were on the payroll that were forced to make monthly payments from their salaries to the bosses. Any appointee that tried to serve the state and yet had to pay tribute to a boss to hold his job, could not serve the state faithfully.

With more Republican state appointees in the bread line and off the state pay roll the more active workers there will be when November 1936 rolls around. Most of the Republican state appointees were serving Schorr, Pemberton & Co., not the great state of Ohio.

AIRSHIPS NOT PROFITABLE TO DATE

The crash of the dirigible Macon off the coast of California Tuesday night adds the third major disaster to this line of aircraft since the country embarked in the development of the balloon type craft. As these vessels cost the government millions of dollars the future may be uncertain as to continuing the investment.

Germany has one type that has covered several hundred thousand miles and made a trip around the world carrying a full complement of passengers without mishap.

Whatever investment has been undertaken there has not only been a great financial loss but often the loss of many lives. Many lives were lost in railroad development until the steel cars were developed.

The commercial airplane development has cost hundreds of lives yet there is no one that can say the aircraft of today is not a safer means of travel than ten years ago.

The disaster Tuesday night may retard dirigible development for the present but it will be undertaken at a later date.

THE PRISON INVESTIGATION AND RESULTS

Much has been said in favor and against the investigation of the Ohio penitentiary. Many Republicans join with the anti-Davey Democrats in condemning what has taken place. On the face the governor's investigator has been judge, jury and witness for the state, if there was one. Warden Thomas has had little or no chance to defend himself.

Warden Thomas was holding his place under civil service rules until the Governor had him bodily removed by the state troops. Since then Thomas has also been removed from the list of civil service appointments. This only goes to show what we have contended in the past that civil service was a farce and should be dropped. If the Governor can set aside a law that is even provided for by the constitution then our states are nothing more than shells that give citizens little or no protection. Whether the courts will get to pass on this feature is not known at this date.

We agree with the Governor's investigator that Ohio needs a new prison, whether now is the time to burden the state financially is something else. We agree that it should not be in or near a large city. In fact the state owns one of the finest sites in the country in Madison county that is amply large to accommodate five or ten thousand prisoners.

There is no more ideal site than the London Prison Farm. There are some buildings in use now for housing the honor prisoners. When the time comes for a new prison it should be erected on the London site and with prison labor. Not one dollar of the taxpayer's money should be used for anything but material for the new buildings.

Gov. Davey has many troublesome days ahead of him in his administration due to the fact that fully fifty per cent of the Democrats either are opposing his program or are only lukewarm towards it. Cleveland and Akron are about the only two major cities that are receiving any state appointments.

Vendors Under the New Sales Tax

Who frequently or only occasionally sell merchandise that is exempt from sales tax need blanks for his purchaser to sign.

The Herald has prepared these blanks and they can be bought in small pads at a very nominal cost. They are approved by the State Tax Commission.

Purchasers who know that certain merchandise they buy is tax free will want to have some of these blanks to insure his right to purchase without paying the tax.

One of the most successful farmers

in Greene county is Edwin Dean. He not only has the faculty of good judgment in farm management but he is a keen observer of public affairs and notes the trend of business and how it might be affected by what the government does or does not do. Back in the days of war prosperity Mr. Dean made good use of his profits and was a liberal purchaser of Liberty Bonds. At the same time he was liberal in his contributions to the Red Cross. During the past few years he has purchased a number of farms and is still adding to the list, with an occasional sale when he can take a profit. Mr. Dean is doing what hundreds of others today are doing—going out of the government bond business for investment. When the government starts printing presses on a day and night schedule to print inflation bonds by the billion, its time to get something else. Today industrial stocks are being looked upon with more favor than anytime in the past five years. Likewise farm values will improve but never reach a peak such as we had previous to 1929. Safety of the investment is what counts most—not the profit or return. With government bonds being issued by the billion there will be no rush to buy first. While the little fellows are buying the big boys will be selling—that's the reason the little fellow is seldom on the profit side of investments.

We cannot refrain from calling attention to the situation that President Roosevelt is in today. During his administration he has courted the labor unions at all times. In fact NRA was a labor union movement for you recall Gen. (Crackdown) Johnson stated over the air that he would rather sit down in conference with Bill Green, John Lewis, and other labor leaders, than the head of any big industrial organization. Times have changed the picture. Johnson has been kicked out of the Roosevelt racketeering movement and he is writing sensible and conservative articles lambasting NRA in one of the leading publications in the country. Where do we find Green and Lewis today? Both "cracking down" on Roosevelt and Richberg. Roosevelt comes back at them in frey statements but he has not driven either out of the picture. Meantime his "rubber stamp" congress is cracking up and not taking orders. Senators from states where labor votes outnumber Democratic voters, several Roosevelt supporters are on the spot. Green and Lewis reject NRA so there is nothing left in the Blue Eagle nest but the old bird, Roosevelt and Richberg.

The NRA is not the only division of the government that is in trouble. The Agriculture Department in Washington has been over loaded with so many Socialist nuts, internal strife, charges of graft and a host of other things, have all but stopped that department from functioning. Last week a half dozen of the Tugwell communist followers were kicked into the street and cut off the pay roll. Most of them were of the "forgotten man" classification, those drawing $5,000 to $7,500 salaries. An old time Jefferson Democrat that is a conscientious follower of this historic leader, must have to hold his "adam-apple" when he thinks of the brand of so-called Democrats the Roosevelt followers have on government pay. Father Coughlin has even grabbed his rapid-firing musket and each Sunday pours buck-shot into the Roosevelt Socialist administration. While bedlam reigns in the "ag" department Sec. Wallace must devote much time to several suits in U. S. Courts where he and some of his one-time companies are charged with violation of the anti-trust laws by a farm publication in Indiana. The ground-hog has easy sailing compared to the program of the New Dealers.

No decision on the gold payment contracts in bonds has yet been handed down by the U. S. Supreme Court. There have been guesses that it would come at certain dates—but no decision. From inside reports Washington is in a whirl—much like war time under Wilson. No one can tell what will happen. President Roosevelt, with his happy smile, his cunning political moves and some time bold strokes, such as entertaining the members of the high court at the White House last week, may have started the administration on another course. It is admitted in Democratic circles that the action of the Court has everyone in Washington on the griddle. The Court will decide the case but evidently there is no advance tips, the court being about the only function of government that as yet has taken no orders from the New Dealers. The court is not even trusting the government printing plant to print the decision, otherwise it might just as well be handed to Farley. A small sidewalk job shop does the printing, but the vital paragraph that says a contract is a contract or not, will be put in type by the hand method by the proprietor of the shop himself and he will print same in the darkness of night, when none of the help is on duty. It will then be delivered to the Court. This shows the extent of confidence the court has in the "New Deal" administration, irrespective of what the decision may be. Aaron Burr never was marked with more suspicion.

Tuesday, February 12, has for years been an important date in American history, the anniversary date of the birth of Abraham Lincoln. However the life and the ideals of the immortal Lincoln have little or no place in history making of the New Deal era. Lincoln fought for the preservation of the Union and refused to be swept from fundamental principles even though he was opposed by some of his own party. What have we today, anything but what Lincoln stood for? The Civil War was won for a principle. Not so many months ago the Democratic administration in Washington ordered the Lincoln statue removed from the honored place it has held in Statuary Hall. A former Ohio Democratic governor ordered a Lincoln plaque removed from the state capital in Columbus. We are living today under a government of jingoism, the lifeblood of the north being sucked by southern crickets. When the north fully awakens to the fact that Lincoln's "You can fool some of the people, etc." has been inflicted on them the "peaceful revolution" we hear much about may have the sound and odor of something else than—peace. In such a contest we might see in the mist the handclasp of Lincoln and Jefferson.

Things are beginning to boil in Xenia over the relief setup and we hear that petitions are being freely signed that may lead to serious trouble. We can imagine how impossible it would be to please everyone in handling such a problem but nothing but friction could develop when the braintruster ideas were put in force. It seems we must have a high salaried social service worker with eight or ten college degrees and a union card to hand out charity. We also learn there is so much red tape connected with the relief program, workers spend most of their time making out foolish reports by the yard to be forwarded to Columbus to give some Democratic politician a job. Meantime people that are hungry and need fuel must wait days until the Roosevelt red tape is unwound. Not so long ago the nuts in charge in Columbus ordered a lot of high priced office equipment in the Xenia headquarters. The taxpayers of the county would have had to pay the bill but thanks to the Greene County Commissioners for refusing to pay such a bill. The taxpayers would not approve it and these hungry and cold could not eat office fixtures. The sooner some common sense is exercised in the management of the Greene County relief headquarters the more relief there will be for those in need. We have too much social service experimenting and not enough business management. There is one lady too many in the Xenia headquarters.

Gov. Davey faced an embarrassing situation last week when he stepped in on the annual Ohio Pastor's Convention. So did some of the pastors, especially the one on the floor, speaking in no uncertain terms of some of the Governor's policies. The Governor had been invited to speak but sent word he could not attend owing to pressing duties. Later he changed his mind and received what is said to have been a very cool reception. The minister speaking at the time the Governor walked down the center aisle was not aware of the fact and the chairman of the convention had a hard time making him understand that he was lambasting a guest. The Governor made no effort to reply when he was called upon. After his departure it was open house for criticism and only one or two pastors made any effort to uphold Ohio's chief executive or approve of what he has done since taking office.

T. L. Calvert in an interview with the South Charleston Sentinel stated that the Selma Mutual Telephone Co., was the first rural company in the state. It was formed in 1884 just eight years after Alexander Bell had perfected the Bell telephone. The company purchased ten miles of copper wire and the farmers cut oak poles from their own land. When the line was completed the company had sixteen subscribers. There was no central station and no operator, each patron using the line when it was not busy. There was chiseling in those days as now on the party line. All you had to do was lift the receiver and listen to what the neighbor woman had to say.

It has been more than twenty years since we started this Rounder column and in all that time we have never missed an issue. Only once, and that was the issue which carried the account of the big flood in 1913, have we failed to occupy this first column on the front page. Recently we have noticed that a number of our exchanges have adopted this local columnist idea and we feel flattered. Among these newspaper friends who have paid us the compliment of imitation we find The Star-Republican, of Blanchester, running "The Roundup" column on its first page. J. S. Myers has a daily column in "The Middletown Journal" under the heading "Good Afternoon." This is one of the best. The Cedarville Herald has a fine column headed "The Kopper Kettle." The Warren County Democrat runs a gossip column under the heading, "Seen and Heard by the Jay-walker."

—Franklin Chronicle.

One of the fruits of the NRA is the increase in the price of many of the daily newspapers. Publishers are not conceding the reason why three cents is necessary and cite the fact that increasing costs under NRA is one of the reasons. Even Democratic newspapers that by the Blue Eagle and support the Roosevelt New Dealers give the reason for increased prices. The consumer is the forgotten man. He was before Roosevelt became king and his status has not been changed unless he is receiving a government dole. The cost of living went up seven per cent the past month, with 20 million people on the pay roll. Its the New Deal.

Temperance Notes

Sponsored by Cedarville W. C. T. U.

While the United States is seeking to cut liquor taxes to make booze cheaper for the working classes President Lázaro Cardenas is determined to raise the tax in Mexico to make drinking too expensive for the working classes.

The W. C. T. U. is desiring of the active support of every patriotic and loyal woman citizen, and we hope that among its battling forces may be found many Evangelical women. We know of no better organization through which they can make their own influence and effort felt than this—The Christian Evangelist.
So say we all.

It is said that on the tomb of an ancient Egyptian was inscribed these words: "His earthly tenement shattered by beer and wine, he was called before his time." This could be written on many a tomb of more modern times.

President Cardenas of Mexico expresses sympathy with the prohibition of alcoholic beverages and states: "Prohibition is the best thing for more than 16,000,000 people of my country and national dryness is to have a foremost place. Mexico is determined to intensify the education of its people in preparing its citizens as active factors in the development of our country; it is indispensable that everything be eliminated which tends to hinder this objective."

We were opposed to the "Congress Control" amendment which was introduced into Congress sometime ago by Senator Shephard and backed by a number of prominent drys but we look with approval upon a new prohibition amendment which will probably be presented to Congress, which would "prohibit the manufacture, sale or transportation of alcohol over one-half of one per cent, within the importation thereof into, or the exportation thereof from the United States, and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof for beverage purposes."

Mr. D. Stewart Patterson addressing a group of Methodists said: "We are living in a scientific age. What does science have to say about liquor? Science says, 'You are under the influence of alcohol as soon as the first drop gets into your blood stream.' Some general practitioners have been quoted as saying that alcohol is not harmful, but the general practitioner is usually a physiologist. To learn the true picture one must also ask the neurologist, the psychiatrist, the social and economic scientist. The statement of opinion from representatives of this group is 'Alcohol begins narcosis.'"

ENTERTAIN FOR RECENT BRIDE SATURDAY P. M.

Miss Wilde Auld and Miss Martha Waddle were hostesses to a company of ladies last Saturday afternoon at the home of the latter, honoring Mrs. A. G. Mayer, Dayton, formerly Miss Sara Abel, a former resident of this place, but residing in Ironton the past few years.

The guests hemmed tea towels for Mrs. Mayer during the afternoon. At an appointed hour Dorothy Jane Waddle, small sister of one of the hostesses, came down the stairway, carrying a decorated red and white umbrella. On each rib a rhyme was hidden for the bride, who was presented a miscellaneous array of useful articles.

An ice course was served by the hostesses. Appointments appropriate to Valentine's Day were employed.

The guest list included Mrs. Mayer, of Dayton; Mrs. Carter Abel, Ironton; Mrs. David Reynolds, Wilmington; Mrs. Nelson Creswell, Misses Lenora Skinnell, Bernice Bryant, Ruth Mitchell, Eleanor Finney, Annabelle Murdock, Lulu Henderson, Carrie Rife, Josephine Auld, Glenna Waddle, Lena Hastings, Mrs. W. Mr. and Mrs. Mayer were married in Ironton January 17. Mrs. Mayer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carter Abel, Ironton, formerly of Cedarville and graduated from Cedarville High School and Ohio State University. Mr. Mayer is a Dayton attorney. Mr. and Mrs. Mayer are residing at 1835 Epworth Ave., Dayton.

Historical Mileposts

Of Ohio
By C. S. Van Tassel
(Copyrighted)

At the legislative session, December 6, 1813 to February 11, 1814, Governor Meigs in his message, referred at length to the series of victories in the war and their results, and naturally, spoke of the achievements of the Ohio Militia of which he was Commander; commended their patriotism in responding to his call by the thousands, and lauded the officers and men for their bravery and soldierly conduct.

The Governor stood high in the estimation of the people. When General Hull proved his utter incapacity as a Commander, there was a movement inaugurated by his officers to depose him and place Governor Meigs at the head of the troops, which by reason of Hull's early surrender, did not materialize. Fort Meigs was named in his honor near his forty-sixth birthday. His career began early, for his was Judge of the Ohio Supreme Court, 1803-1804; in 1807, he was appointed Judge of the U. S. District Court of Michigan Territory; elected to the U. S. Senate, and served from January, 1809 to May, 1810; twice elected Governor and resigned to take the position of Postmaster-General in the Cabinet of President Madison; died at Marietta, 1825.

Wars are expensive. The Government's first demand as Ohio's quota was a direct tax of $85,000 which was promptly raised, although a large portion had to be borrowed. Besides, there was the great expense of the State Militia.

The prisoners of war, from the British Lake Erie fleet, confirmed at Chillicothe, furnished a sensation by their attempt to escape; and the leaders of the plot were put in irons.

The capture of Washington and the burning of the Government buildings by the British was greatly lamented. The resignation of Governor Meigs to assume the position of Postmaster-General, placed Othuel Looker, Speaker of the Senate, in the Governor's chair, from March 25, 1814 to December 8, 1814.

Members of the Research Club held a covered dish dinner last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. E. E. Finney, with husbands as guests. Mrs. W. R. McChesney read a paper on "Doors," and Mrs. Lula Watt a paper on "Clock." Music was furnished by the College Girls' Quartet.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. F. B. STRATTON, D. D.,
of the Christian Church in America,
of the Christian Church in America,
of the Christian Church in America)

Lesson for February 17

PETER TEACHES GOOD CITIZENSHIP

LESSON TEXT—1 Peter 2:11-17; 4:1-8.
GOLDEN TEXT—Love works no ill to his neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law. Romans 13:10.
PRIMARY TOPIC—A Letter From Peter.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Peter Becomes a Teacher.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What Makes a Good Citizen.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Responsibilities of a Good Citizen.

In order to get an intelligent grasp of today's lesson one must get a view of the entire Epistle as to its purpose and method. The purpose was to establish all who were passing through suffering and testing (see 1:7; 3:14; 4:12; 5:10-12).

The principles of Christian behavior set forth in this text are of a broader scope than citizenship. They embrace behavior as Pilgrims and Sojourners (vv. 11, 12).

Christians are really sojourners on the earth. They have not their permanent home here. They are journeying through the earth on their way to their eternal home in the heavens. Their heavenly citizenship (Phil. 3:20) should constrain them to the maintenance of conduct consistent with their high calling.

1. Abstain from fleshly lusts (v. 11). The term "lusts" here includes the entire array of unclean forces springing from our carnal natures. They are enumerated in Galatians 5:19-21.

2. Behavior among the Gentiles or heathen (v. 12). The word conversation here means behavior. Christians are under obligation to so live as to render it impossible for the world to speak evil against them as evil-doers.

3. Behavior as Citizens (vv. 13-17). While the Christian's true citizenship is in heaven, he has a responsibility as a citizen on the earth during his earthly sojourn. He should be in subordination to properly constituted authority.

4. Obedience to civil rulers (v. 13). Fidelity to Christ is shown by loyalty to civil authority. The intelligent Christian recognizes the necessity of government and graciously submits to those in authority over him, regardless of the form of government. His duties as a citizen he performs as the Lord's free man, not through servile fear. Government even of a low order is better than anarchy. Free submission to governmental authority puts to silence the ignorance of foolish men (vv. 15, 16).

5. Honor all men (v. 17). The Christian sees in every man the image of God and will, therefore, give him the honor due him. This applies to all relations wherein we touch human life.

6. Love the brotherhood (v. 17). The brotherhood is composed of those who are children of God by faith in Jesus Christ.

7. Fear God (v. 17). This means to recognize God's sovereignty, righteousness, and holiness, and properly to reverence him.

8. Honor the king (v. 17). This had a peculiar significance at the time this was written, because in all probability the wicked Nero was then reigning as the emperor.

9. Behavior in a World of Opposition (1 Pet. 4:1-5).

1. Arm for the conflict (v. 1). Christians are engaged in a tremendous conflict with evil forces within and without. Satan and his angels are bent on the believers' defeat and destruction.

2. The salutary effect of suffering (v. 1). Suffering has a remedial effect upon God's children. The one who suffers with Christ as an example will have the consciousness that it is his identity with Christ that calls forth the opposition of the world.

3. God's will the regulating force of his life (v. 2). The will of God, not the lusts of the flesh, is the directing force of the believer's life.

4. The consciousness of a wasted life (v. 3). Looking back upon a wasted life in serving the lusts of the flesh will move one to give no more time to serving such a master.

5. The attitude of the world toward the one who separates himself from it (v. 4). The world speaks evil of those who will not go its way. The world not only wonders at the life of the Christian who separates himself from its pleasures, such as dancing, card playing, wine drinking, etc., but will heap upon him nicknames of reproach.

6. Account shall be given (v. 5). The Christian should so live as to be able to render a good account to God.

Fellowship With God
Every mental movement and religious activity of life should be a heartfelt plea for deeper and sweeter fellowship with God.

Need of the Day
The greatest need of today is a renaissance of character among the people of this distracted earth; a renaissance of that quality of character which recognizes obligations as an honest man recognizes his debts, and of the quality of faith that gives us the desire and the courage to help instead of to hide.

Belief Imperative
An optimistic view of life is a hollow sham unless it is based on a belief in human immortality.

Feed Stocks Now At April Levels

Conditions Would Be Extremely Serious Were Livestock as Numerous

At the turn of the year stocks of corn, wheat and oats were smaller than the usual supplies on hand at the first of April, according to the monthly survey of agricultural conditions released by Ohio State University rural economists.

Conditions would be extremely serious were not livestock numbers greatly reduced by the AAA corn-hog program and emergency purchases of cattle in the more severely affected drought areas, the report reveals.

The shortage of hay and grain supplies has already been reflected in milk production. Short rations for cows resulted in a lower average milk production per cow this month than for any January since records were first gathered in 1924. With the number of milk cows reduced 4 or 5 per cent, the total daily milk flow is estimated to be down 9 or 10 per cent.

Only one farm product important in Ohio declined in price in the latter part of 1934. Egg prices dropped from 31 to 26 cents a dozen from November to December, in spite of somewhat below normal storage holdings. The relation between egg and feed prices continues unfavorable. A hundred-pound bag of poultry ration cost 54 per cent more in December than it did 12 months before, whereas egg prices in the same period had risen only 12 per cent.

The report states farm income in 1934, including income from benefit payments and government emergency purchases, was estimated at between $6,100,000,000 and $6,125,000,000.
